ESTABLISHED 2006

The world's first pizzeria opened in Naples sometime around 1830. Pizzerias in this era usually included a large brick oven and a pizzaiolo (artist pizza maker trained by generation after generation in the craft) who would assemble all the pizzas on a marble counter top right before the customer's eyes.

This practice of using a brick oven to cook pizza gives an unmatched and unforgettable quality in every bite and Remo's Brick Oven Pizza Co. presents this same experience to you today!
